

$100 REWARD

TO THE READER OF THE "World"

WHO Makes the Nearest Guess to its Circulation for 1888.

Before December 25, 1888.

Prize Awarded January 10, 1889.

CIRCULATION FOR LAST YEAR:

1888..... 12,335,255 Copies.

1887..... 25,519,787 Copies.

1886..... 51,241,265 Copies.

1885..... 70,126,041 Copies.

1884..... 83,889,823 Copies.

Circulation for the First 10 Months of 1888:

86,593,995 Copies.

HOW MUCH OVER

ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS

WILL BE THE CIRCULATION OF

The World

DURING THE YEAR 1889?

ADDRESS "CIRCULATION PRIZE,"

NEW YORK WORLD,

31 PARK ROW, N. Y. CITY.

AND SO THEY WERE MARRIED.

Miss Pearlman Becomes Mrs. Walker—Mr.

Robertson and Miss Carter Married.

A large wedding yesterday afternoon in Calvary

Church was that of Miss Charlotte Thorne Pearlman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Willett Pearlman, and Mr. R. Robinson Walker. The ceremony, Rev. Henry V. Satterlee, performed the ceremony. The bride wore an elaborate Di-rectoire gown of heavy white brocade, with long train. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo suit, with white waistcoat and bow tie. The wedding was held in the Calvary Church, at 10 o'clock and was a very quiet affair. The bride and groom were accompanied by their parents and other relatives. The wedding party consisted of the bride, bridegroom, bridesmaids, groom-smen, and a large number of guests. The reception was held at the residence of the bride, at 10 o'clock. The wedding was a very quiet affair, and was attended by a large number of guests. The wedding was a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

a very quiet affair, and was attended by a

large number of guests. The wedding was

CLOSE OF THE BISMARCK ERA.

COUNT HERBERT TO BE SHELVED WHEN

HIS FATHER RETIRES NEXT SPRING.

Mr. Labouchere Declares That Gen. Count von Waldersee, the Husband of Miss Len, of New York, Will Become the

All-Powerful Factor in the Affairs of the German Empire.

Copyright, 1888, by The Press Publishing Company (New York World).

[SPECIAL CABLE DISPATCH TO THE WORLD.]

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Count Herbert von Bismarck is described as perhaps the most statesman of the day in the field of European statescraft.

So far is this from being the case that I hear from a person who is behind the scenes at Berlin that Count Herbert's days at the Foreign Office are numbered and that on the retirement of Prince Bismarck, which is certainly to take place next Spring, he will be practically shelved by being despatched to London as Ambassador. The fact is that Count Herbert, instead of being a reported political talent, is simply nothing beyond a manly, agreeable German, with a great father to guide him. The most striking man in European politics is Count von Waldersee, who will be the de facto leader of the German Empire in connection with the Kaiser before another year has passed.

THE ROYAL MARRIAGE AT ATHENS.

The marriage of the Crown Prince of Greece and of Princess Sophia of Prussia is to take place at Athens during the first week in May.

AUSTRIA'S BENEFICIAL KALEID.

Emperor Francis Joseph celebrates the fortieth anniversary of his accession to the throne on Sunday week, and has positively forbidden all rejoicings. Nor will he receive any gifts. He desires that the money which might be expended in such ways be devoted to the poor and to charitable objects.

RUSSIA'S ROTTEN RAILROADS.

The Czar is furious at the discovery that the Russian railways, on which hundreds of millions of roubles have been expended, are in such a rotten condition that in the event of war the whole transport arrangements must inevitably break down.

JOHN BRIGHT'S SICKNESS.

John Bright has rallied, and sincerely hope that he will entirely regain his health and strength.

For Unionist and hard hitter as he is, there is much about the old athlete that is very lovable to those who know him. But I am sorry to hear that his general condition is not deemed satisfactory by his friends.

MRS. ENDICOTT'S REPUTATION FOR VICE.

If Mrs. Chamberlain is as witty as her mother she will prove a most pleasant addition to the Hirmi-ngton upper circles. Mrs. Endicott is reported to have said that there were five obstacles to her daughter's marriage—two below the ground and three above.

A DUCHESS IN THE CHAMPAGNE TRADE.

The Duchess d'Uzes, who has been entertaining the Grand Duke Vladimir and Alexis of Russia, at the Chateau de Bonnelles, has just been bought out of the famous Chateau d'Amboise for $1,000,000 francs. She is the granddaughter of the original Vevee Chateau.

ENGLISH FINGERING CATTLE.

It appears from Mr. Thornton's "Shortness Circular" that at the fourteen sales which have been held during the past three months 69 animals were sold for $1,000,000, giving an average price of $297,500 a head. One hundred and sixty-three pedigree animals have been exported to South Africa, and to the United States, Germany, Sweden and France have each taken three.

ARTIST WHIMSLIES HONORED AT MUNICH.

The Royal Academicians at Munich have elected

Mr. James Whistler to be an honorary member of their body as a sign of the honor and of the high esteem in which they hold his superb work.

IN THE DOMINION A MINISTER OF THE SCOTCH establishment, at a place called Whitechapel, received an impressive lesson a few Sundays ago on the subject of politics in the pulpit. It seems that the General Assembly has published a manifesto on the biocentricity of the revolution of 1888, and the Rev.

Quintin Johnston, after reading this edifying document to the congregation, proceeded to supply the result of the other valuable views on a matter of cal situation, describing Mr. Gladstone as a tool in the hands of Romanism and so forth. Thereupon, up rose a young lady in the congregation who called upon the preacher to stop, and, having frightened him into silence, proceeded to raise him soundly for desecrating the house of prayer by propagating partyism within its walls. The effect seemed to have been a good one, for the Rev. Mr. Johnston was moved to apologize frankly for the offense. We could do with a few young ladies of the same type on this side of the ocean. There really appear to be no bounds to the aberrations and fantasticities of the clergy of the present day. I heard last week of a reverend parson of a Western diocese who astonished his congregation by exhorting them before he commenced his sermon to pray fervently for the early discovery of the Whitechapel murderer.

WHERE IS IT ALL TO END?

The feeling with regard to the action of the Parliament Commission is growing stronger every day, and to judge by the observations which have fallen from the President, Sir James Hannan, it would seem that the Commissioners themselves are beginning to perceive that they have fallen into the trap laid for them by the Attorney-General, and his double capacity as the Times advocate and a member of the Tory Government. At present every species of outrage, whether true or false, is being put in, the excuse being that the Attorney-General will connect them with the Nationalist specimens. The connection, however, can only consist in this, that the speeches were made and that the outrages took place. Whether one was the result of the other, and must be, is a matter of opinion. But if an opinion is to be formed on the cause of the outrages it is clear that it will be obligatory on the defendants to show that there were other causes which, irrespective of the speeches, might have led to the same result. It will therefore be necessary for them to produce all the victims of evasions and of excessive reticence.

Executive reticence followed by evasions, it was

the result of the other, and must be, is a matter of

opinion. But if an opinion is to be formed on the cause of the outrages it is clear that it will be

obligatory on the defendants to show that there were other causes which, irrespective of the

speeches, might have led to the same result. It

will therefore be necessary for them to produce all

the victims of evasions and of excessive reticence.

Executive reticence followed by evasions, it was

the result of the other, and must be, is a matter of

opinion. But if an opinion is to be formed on the cause of the outrages it is clear that it will be

obligatory on the defendants to show that there were other causes which, irrespective of the

speeches, might have led to the same result. It

will therefore be necessary for them to produce all

the victims of evasions and of excessive reticence.

Executive reticence followed by evasions, it was

the result of the other, and must be, is a matter of

opinion. But if an opinion is to be formed on the cause of the outrages it is clear that it will be

obligatory on the defendants to show that there were other causes which, irrespective of the

speeches, might have led to the same result. It

will therefore be necessary for them to produce all

the victims of evasions and of excessive reticence.

Executive reticence followed by evasions, it was

the result of the other, and must be, is a matter of

opinion. But if an opinion is to be formed on the cause of the outrages it is clear that it will be

obligatory on the defendants to show that there were other causes which, irrespective of the

speeches, might have led to the same result. It

will therefore be necessary for them to produce all

the victims of evasions and of excessive reticence.

Executive reticence followed by evasions, it was

the result of the other, and must be, is a matter of

opinion. But if an opinion is to be formed on the cause of the outrages it is clear that it will be